Columbia & Snake Rivers

River Cruising—Explorers, Wine & History

Roll on, Columbia, roll on. Imagine lashing down the wagon with all your earthly belongings and being among the first to arrive along the Columbia, Snake, and Willamette Rivers. Nearly 40 years after the Corps of Discovery expedition of 1804, thousands were drawn west by cheap land, patriotism, or the promise of a better life. Forged by volcanic eruptions 40-60 million years ago and catastrophic floods near the end of the last ice-age, the basin has been inhabited by humans for over 15,000 years. Indigenous peoples had long been present when waves of pioneers arrived. Then industrialists came along to harness the mighty Columbia, and in 1943, the world's first full-scale nuclear reactor was established at the Hanford Nuclear Reservation as part of the Manhattan Project. Today, the river's dams produce more hydroelectric power than any other North American river.

American beauty—embrace the American West spirit and encompass the dramatic contrast of stark natural vistas and hand-of-man achievements. Cruising nearly 1,000 miles—conveniently, roundtrip Portland, Oregon—our inclusive voyages aboard an 88-guest replica coastal steamer bring the history and stories of these rivers to life. Historians, crew in period uniform, guest experts, exclusive onboard living history presentations, and included excursions ashore to museums, historic forts, and wineries carry you through time, sharing its varied past and showing how agriculture and engineering have shaped this vast region. Unveil natural wonders, historical landmarks, and amazing human endeavors.

JOURNEY THROUGH TIME along the Columbia, Snake, and Willamette Rivers and your senses awaken much as they must have for Captain Robert Gray. In 1792, Gray discovered and named the Columbia River after his ship, the Columbia Reviva. As you push off from the Portland dock enjoying champagne and hors d'oeuvres, it is certain your bountiful expedition will have you traveling in greater comfort than your predecessors—who without the aid of modern amenities, undertook tough journeys. This week, joined by legendary and colorful personalities, the history along these shores comes to life.

Days 2-6

Passing alongside shores of evergreen forests, high desert, and canyons, you'll cruise upriver transiting eight sets of locks and dams, and centuries of history. Your onboard heritage team retraces history through colorful stories and live renditions of hardship and triumph. Learn the legend of a beautiful Indian maiden—the winter spirit of a towering waterfall, and about the Nez Perce and their 1805 encounter with Lewis & Clark. Cruise the 80-mile long Columbia River Gorge, cutting through the Cascade Mountains and past hillsides of the huge wind turbines, orchards, vineyards, and wheat fields that have helped shape the land. On a speed boat into Hells Canyon, keep watch for 7,000-year-old Indian petroglyphs and up vertical cliffs for bighorn sheep and golden eagles. Early American history unfolds in a pioneer village, European history stands sentry in a castle-like chateau, and modern history exposes the vibrant flavors of this world-class wine region.

Days 7-8

Near the mouth of the Columbia, step back in time once again at Fort Clatsop, the Corps of Discovery's last encampment; visit Astoria Column perched atop Coxcomb Hill—600 feet above sea level; stroll the streets of Victorian Astoria; and explore the river's nautical history at the Columbia River Maritime Museum. Enjoy the evening's Farewell Dinner and relive your week through photos and storytelling. Bid adieu in the morning before you transfer to the Portland airport or begin your extended stay in town.
